

Installing the 'auto boot' option.

Side A of the disc contains SUPERNOVA INVADERS which requires the addition of a couple of files from the utilities disc supplied with your computer.

Computers with one disc drive fitted

1. Switch on the computer and insert the utility disc (side 2).
2. With the utility disc in drive A type the following command, including spaces,

b:submit install

and then press ENTER

3. Whenever the prompt 'Put the disc for B: into the drive the press any key' appears make sure that the Amstrad utility disc is in the drive (side 2 nearest screen), and then press any key. When the prompt 'Put the disc for A: into the drive then press any key' appears, make sure the copy of 'SUPERNOVA INVADERS' you have just made is in the drive (Side 1 nearest the screen), and then press any key.
4. The program will automatically copy the correct programs onto the backup disc.
5. When 'A>' appears on the screen the disc will be ready for use.

Computers with two drives fitted

Follow the instructions as above except in '2' place the utility disc in drive B rather than in drive A

Loading and running 'SUPERNOVA INVADERS'

Reset the machine and place side 1 of the SUPERNOVA INVADERS disc in drive A. The game will then automatically load and run.
